An individual ECTS accredited extracurricular activity shall also be carried out at remote faculties of the University of Maribor if enough interest is demonstrated in such activities and if the management of the faculty implementing the course decides so, or the course shall be carried out remotely if the nature of the course allows it. Students can obtain more information from the course coordinator.

In accordance with the Criteria for Credit Assignment to Study Programmes According to ECTS, an individual ECTS accredited course is, as a rule, allocated 3 ECTS credits. An exception to the rule are courses Practical training in the 2nd – cycle study programme as KOOD 1, 2, 3, 4, which are allocated

6 ECTS. Courses are intended for students of the 2nd-cycle study programmes who are enrolled in the first year of study or have regularly progressed into the next year of study. They are considered to be able to perform practical training in the 2nd-cycle study programme at any time during their studies, in the same professional field as the professional field of their study. More detailed information can be found in the course syllabus (annex to the Call) and on the my.um.si website, subpage on Practical Training in Master's Study Programmes.

The Call includes a larger number of courses from the field of green and digital content, since the University of Maribor as part of the Recovery and Resilience Plan strives to equip students with knowledge and competences for sustainable development and a sustainable way of life.

A student may use credit points earned through an ECTS accredited extracurricular activity in the framework of open elective courses or as an additionally completed course. If obligations fulfilled through ECTS accredited extracurricular activities are recognised within the enrolled study programme, the recognised obligations and ECTS credits shall be included in the total number of ECTS credits of the study programme. Otherwise, the ECTS accredited extracurricular activity shall be included in the student records (IŠO), listed as an additionally fulfilled study obligation, and shall not affect the number of ECTS credits required for progression to a higher year of study. The student may choose any number of additional courses.

The content, duration and course completion method of an ECTS accredited extracurricular activity are defined in the course syllabus (Annex to this Call).

ECTS accredited extracurricular activities are financed by the University of Maribor. Any additional costs, such as equipment rental, purchase of tickets, transportation, accommodation etc., shall be covered by the students themselves. Detailed information on any additional costs and the amount for each individual course is provided by the course coordinator.

Participants decide on a voluntary basis to participate in an extracurricular activity and take part in it on their own responsibility at agreed times according to the timetable set by the faculty carrying out the course as part of ECTS accredited extracurricular activities.

2. Conditions for the Implementation of ECTS Accredited Extracurricular Activities

Courses within the ECTS accredited extracurricular activities are carried out only if there are enough students enrolled in the course, otherwise the implementation is decided by the management of the faculty implementing the course.

If the number of available places is indicated for an individual course, students shall be selected according to the order of application until the places are filled. Students will be notified by e-mail about the confirmation of their choice.

3. Application Conditions

Students enrolled to study programmes of the University of Maribor who hold a valid student status in the current academic year may apply to the Call. The University of Maribor's exchange students may also apply to the Call.

4. Application Deadline

Students may apply to the Call on ECTS Accredited Extracurricular Activities of the University of Maribor at the time of enrolment in a higher year of study in line with the enrolment periods determined by each faculty, or no later than 30 September 2025.

The above-stated application deadline does not apply for courses Practical training in the 2nd – cycle study programme as KOOD 1, 2, 3, 4. It is possible to apply for these courses at any time during the academic year.

5. Application Method

Students can apply to the call in two ways:

- Electronically supported application (simultaneously with completing the online enrolment form for enrolment in a higher year): if students wish to use an ECTS accredited course in the framework of extracurricular activities as an open elective course of the accredited study programme in which they are enrolled, they select a course under extracurricular activities from available elective courses in the online AIPS (the D type of elective) while completing the electronic enrolment form for the higher year. Once the enrolment form is confirmed, students will also have the option to select an ECTS accredited extracurricular activities as an additional course. This selection is also carried out electronically via the online AIPS.
- Application via the application form, which is part of the call text (an annex to the Call), in cases where electronic application is not possible (e.g. first-year students, students enrolling in a higher year based on a decision of the relevant committee, or candidates enrolling in a higher year based on transfer criteria or criteria for accelerated progression): students must submit the application form to the Student Affairs Office of the faculty at which they are studying.

After the student records are managed in the student folders, the students will be able to see the selected ECTS accredited courses in the framework of extracurricular activities among their obligations in the AIPS system.
